To hide group

identity

Formed for a specific purpose – hold IPR, property, ring fence the assets from possible litigations,

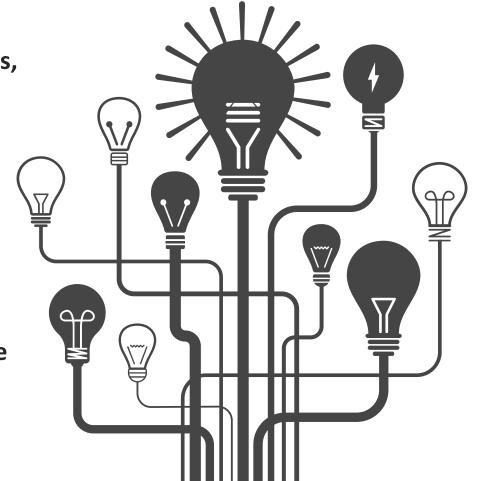

To avoid applicability of various labour laws

Separate entities to get the benefit provided by state governments.

WHY "LEANING-OUT"?

To reduce multiplicity of administrative responsibilities, legal and regulatory compliances

To reduce cross holdings amongst the companies, simplify the control structure for ease of regulatory discloser

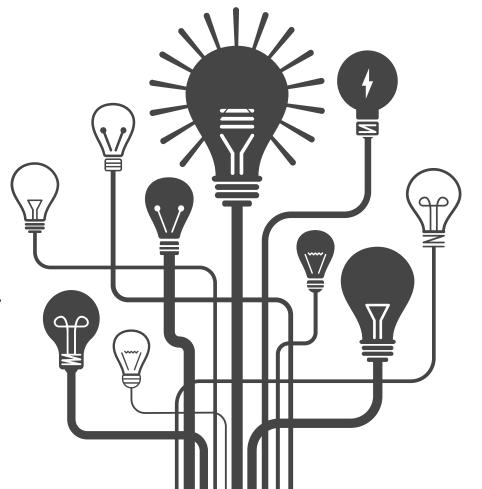

To Simplify and Rationalize the Group Structure

To eliminate extra entities with no operational business and harness the assets and moneys blocked in them

WHY "LEANING-OUT"?

To take advantage of assets and net worth of all the entities and unlock the value

To minimize administrative & managerial costs

The cost of noncompliance is very heavy under the Companies Act, 2013

Pursuant to the notification of the Ministry of Corporate Affairs, a Company can no longer have more than 2 (Two) layers of subsidiaries, thus it is pertinent to reduce the extra entities

Stamp Duty is the subject matter jurisdiction of both the Centre and the State;

Some of the states in India have enacted their own Stamp Acts, for example: Maharashtra, Karnataka, Kerala, Gujarat and Rajasthan, whereas others have adopted the Indian Stamp Act, 1899 with their respective state amendments. Thus, there are no Uniform Stamp Laws across the nation — may vary from state to state;

Stamp Duty is payable on the instruments and in case of Amalgamation, the final order passed by the Hon'ble NCLT of relevant jurisdiction is considered to be an instrument.
